Art Unit: 1711

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 6-8 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-5 of U.S. Patent No. 6,713,525 in view of Chawla. The (525) patent claims the same urethane (meth)acrylate oligomer but differs from these claims by not claiming its use for coating optical fibers. Chawla discloses that similar polyether urethane acrylate oligomers can be used for varied applications, such as coatings for optical fibers and printing plate materials (Col. 1, lines 17-20). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use the oligomer of (525) in the same applications as taught by Chawla.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 6-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Leach (459) in view of Chawla.

Leach discloses urethane (meth)acrylate oligomers made by reacting polyols with low amounts of unsaturation (see examples) with polyisocyanates and hydroxylated (meth)acrylate (col. 5, lines 25-26) and adding a photoinitiator. He differs from the claims by disclosing using the oligomer for printing plates versus for coating optical fibers.

Chawla discloses that similar polyether/urethane/acrylate oligomers (claim 1, example 1) can be used for a variety applications, such as for printing plate materials and coatings for optical fibers (col. 1, lines 17-20).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the oligomer of Leach in the same applications as Chawla because Chawla teaches that these oligomers can be used in various applications. In his examples, Leach shows that materials made from oligomers using polyether polyols having low levels of unsaturation are less tacky, a property important for optical coatings.
